Arbitration in Banking and Finance Disputes

Our global network and experience – along with our extensive knowledge that comes from having unrivalled banking, capital markets and derivatives practices in the world's main financial hubs – sets us apart from others in the industry. Because our dedicated Banking, Finance and Securities Disputes team works closely with our transactional specialists, we are able to quickly spot business trends that might lead to risk for our clients. We can then organise rapid and robust strategies to enforce rights, recover money or assets, or defend financial and reputational claims.
